

Write Stories

Do you know what he likes to do? He like to write a story every day. Some days there are many things to write about. Other days he can not know what to say. He have made three new stories about how people work a long day and then come home to sleep through the night. He may write more books when he think of another idea that is good.

1. Who was the writer?

boy

girl

2. How many new stories did he write?

one

two

three

3. What did he write about?

animals

people

food

4. What would you write a book about?
